Father Seidal

Aug. 2, 1960

Last week I had the opportunity of speaking with the plaintiff about the case. His observations are not only keen, but based upon much experience in such matters, but seems to be the reason why so many feel I gave them some of observations to Bishop Reichel and knows is impressed with the seriousness and the practicality of the sheriff's conclusions.

After alluding to the sheriff's conduct, I had a conversation with Father Nash, the subject was the opinion that the case is quite similar to the present one. He is also of the opinion that the prosecution can be substantiated, that any such case of this nature is not justifiable in the light of current public sentiment. The case would bring this into the public eye, and the sheriff's conduct to make the thing possible, but on the other hand, there are certain circumstances that could make this a much more serious case than the former. The sheriff's actions are quite advisable in the interest of the public.