

Protest Anne Dublin visit

Yesterday
the new
in Dublin
opened
Anne.
aged bin
placards
ce talks
'No

Fein
ty Burke
est was
sure "no
y can be relations
ish state
of Ireland
eremony".
in wants
s with British
ew that relations
political

id: "They
year and ize the create a
eland and
wandered
ays," he

veiled a
the new
day to
it. The been
"an ore" by ects and

al British
ed down
nst the
unarmed
British
Bloody
embassy
airn, Co
hen to

● BANGING BIN LIDS... Princess Annes

Merrion Road in the heart of fashionable Ballsbridge.

The new embassy is located at the plot adjoining the Merrion Road buildings and was occupied from last August.

The Princess travels to Newcastle, Co Dublin today to visit a riding school and present rosettes to disabled riders.

She will then meet representatives of the Irish Association of Victim Support in Dublin before attending the Ireland versus Scotland rugby match at Lansdowne Road. She is due to return to Britain this evening.

Meanwhile, her brother Prince Edward travelled to Co Mayo yesterday on the second day of his first ever visit to the Republic.

The prince was greeted by Trade and Tourism Minister Enda Kenny on his arrival at Knock Airport early yesterday.

Tight security was in evidence for the duration of the visit with large numbers of gardai and soldiers at each venue visited by the Prince.

Priest, 75, gets four years for assault

A 75-YEAR-old priest convicted of indecently assaulting young girls was yesterday beginning a new life in a secluded section of his Co Antrim monastery.

Father Camillus, formerly John Donovan, was sentenced to four years imprisonment suspended for two years, on five counts of indecent assault on girls aged between 10 and 16 years.

Antrim court, sitting at Ballymena on Thursday, heard the offences took place between January 1, 1975 and December 31, 1984.

Judge Peter Gibson was told that in December 1994, Fr Celsus Kelly, abbot at Portglenone's Bethlehem Abbey, received a number of complaints from the public about a member of his community.

Fr Kelly immediately informed the RUC and his bishop.

Passing sentence, Judge Gibson said: "The nature of the assaults were at the lower end of the scale but one must condemn in the strongest terms, the gross abuse of trust."

Drugs in car

TWO men were arrested when police stopped a car on High Street, Belfast, yesterday.

In a search of the vehicle cannabis resin worth £200,000 was discovered.

Head for tropical climes

poster
s reaches a happy ending pair of Loggerheads leave m in Portaferry for their Azores.

was washed ashore with a r - probably the result of a ngle Bay, County Kerry, in nd sent to Exploris. The was found at Jersey and after it was found to have pneumonia.

Both have now fully recovered and put on weight and will be released into the Canaries Current where they will join other turtles before hopefully going on to breed in the Caribbean.

Carol Majury, marketing manager of the centre, thanked TAP Air Portugal, British Midland and SATA Airlines who all provided complimentary flights for the two animals and Keith Todd, technical manager at Exploris, who will oversee their release.

in the

bec

and e

Belf

Thomson
Third Edition: Nov - October 1996

Summer Sun

NORTHERN IRELAND'S
newest and brightest
holidays

Florida
Minorca
Ibiza
Majorca
Salou - Costa Dorada
Tenefice
Algarve - Portugal
Corfu

FREE CHILD PLACES

The new Thomson
chure offers great value to 8 sun-drenched de
made all the more rel
fly from Belfast Interna

We look forward to experience and award-
ensure your holiday is great value.

We've millions of h
return year after year
soon be joining them.
choice of holiday desti
our brochure has an equ
of accommodation.

There are hotels, s
ments, Sun Hotels, All-In Pensions. There's even Florida, with Stay-Puts a

*Esmeralda Apts Costa Dorada. 4 Adults sharing S/C Studio. DEP 4 May. 7nts. Subject to av