Dear Bishop McCormack:

I have been told by three different priests that I have an obligation to inform you that one of your priests, [REDACTED] goes to Asia to engage in sex, presumably with boys. I hardly know Reverend [REDACTED] and came upon this information quite by accident. I was very reluctant to send you this letter, but all three priests assured me that it was my obligation to inform you and that you would make the decision what to do, if anything. One offered to get your address for me and all three said I could send this letter anonymously.

Can you follow up on this to find out if he has gone to Asia? Thanks.

Brian-

Can I get more information about this priest? Full name, date of birth, address, and any other details you have.

We want to check if there is any basis for this allegation.

Will,

As we discussed, attached is a copy of the anonymous letter that was sent to the Bishop. It is my understanding that the letter would not be disclosed under a 91-A request so long as no action is taken by the State.

This is an anonymous allegation against a retired priest who currently lives in [REDACTED]. He is a Diocesan priest with faculties. The Diocese does not plan on removing this priest. The Bishop wants to talk to him about the allegation but wanted to find out if we were going to do anything with it first.

I am not sure what we could do with this info other than talk the the priest.

I told Brian I would get back to him within a few days so that the Diocese can talk the priest if we don't take action.

Any thoughts?

Will
