Summary

In a St. Bernadine Clinic report dated May 28, 1987, [REDACTED] admitted to enagaging in relationships with parishioners, but did not specify whether they were sexual or non-sexual in nature. He stated that he became aware of his constant struggle to meet his affectionate needs without violating the norm of celibacy. He admitted to affectionate interest in a teenager whom he met when she was 15 years of age. He stated that they did not become romantically involved until she was “close to her 18th birthday.” [REDACTED] acknowledged that the age disparity and his priestly role made the relationship somewhat inappropriate.
