The concern is regarding what we and many others believe to be the unacceptable and inappropriate believe to f Father Maloncy. Despite glying him every opportunity to learn more about him and give him every benefit of the doubt, we finally had to leave Epiphany Church and School, transferring to Holy Trinity. The past two years have been both difficult and painful. Many, many times it has been difficult to us, as parents, and tier fractions at Epiphany to explain Father Maloney's behavior. Let us be specific.'.

- . On Super Bowl Sunday, as he was administering communion, he said, "The Body of Christ, is the Beer cold the said of the said My oldest son, sitting next to me in the front row gasped and said to me, "Mom, I can't believe he said and said to me," that,"
- Ills "homilies," if any, are usually 3 minutes long and consist of inappropriate jokes.
- While in the confessional, as I was explaining my difficulties with moving, getting new schools and a new job, ctc-- he said, "You women are just too omotional, maybe you should just get a life."
- Coincidentally, I saw him in a Walgreen's parking lot, after 9pm on a school night in his car with a grade school girl. She went in alone and purchased about $20.00 worth of candy, then returned to his car, and the control of candy, then returned to his car, and the control of candy then returned to his car, and the control of candy then returned to his car, and the control of candy then returned to his car, and the control of candy then returned to his car, and the candy the ca
- He typically takes eighth grade girls from school out to lunch at a place called, "The Pub."

Here are but a few of the many specifics. We've encountered many more, and have talked with other parents with have similar stories. Sure, his masses are packed, but don't we want more for our brothers and sisters than a 20. minute Sunday mass that is referred to as the "Drive-through Mass of Bloomington/Normal?"

After a difficult 18 months, I felt both angry and guilty for having these concerns and feelings about a priest. 1 contacted my long-term confessor and good friend back home. Father assured me that even Christ felt anger with the money-changers, and what I was feeling was appropriately called "righteous indignation." He encouraged us to write Father Maloney and explain our concerns. We did.

He told my husband that we were "out of line," and totally out to get him. He spenished us. He was more dilly rules and how well loved he is and how he doesn't drink at all. He was more dilly rules and how well did not not Christian at all. did not act Christian at all.

It is clear that he has problems. We have heard the same excuse for his behavior—"Oh we all know Father has problems," from the principal, teachers, and even his sister who works in the rectory.

Our final encounter with Father occurred after the phone conversation at my youngest son's first communities. As we will be a conversation at my youngest son's first communities. my husband went up for communion, Father was not only visibly angry but said something rude to my husband." which he will not repeat to mo. (Not knowing about the letter or the phone call from Father) She said, "Oh my, what on earth happened between and Father Maloney?" They apparently got the whole thing on videotape.

This behavior is truly unacceptable. Yes, we have moved to another parish and school, but Father still has influence over people, especially children,
