

Credibly Accused Clergy in the Diocese of San Angelo (DOSA)

Since the creation of the Diocese of San Angelo in 1961, 13 clerics have had credible allegations of sexual abuse of minors while serving in the diocese. Of these, 4 were priests of the Diocese of San Angelo, 1 was a permanent deacon of the Diocese of San Angelo, and 8 were priests from other dioceses or religious orders ministering in the diocese. For priests and deacons of the Diocese of San Angelo, the Bishop of San Angelo is responsible for discipline up to and including removal from ministry. For priests who belong to a religious order or a diocese other than the Diocese of San Angelo, responsibility for discipline resides with the order's religious superior or the bishop of the priest's diocese, although the Bishop of San Angelo can decide that the priest may no longer practice ministry within the boundaries of the Diocese of San Angelo.
