

I have been busy all day in and out of stores - but at the same time very much on edge! Thinking about yesterday, I guess I was rather miserable - constantly complaining - but what I feel and what I certainly anticipate will prove to be valid. & I guess I don't want to be part of it.

Yes - I knew you were going out Sunday - I thought for a few hours - & then I put the lights out at 4:10 A.M. - and I see the same for the future - worse - and I think this is it -

(( I don't know exactly what I'm writing here - just thoughts I guess - felt I had to write something as I feel badly ))

I am sorry for the condition we find ourselves after so many years of fun things and places visited & it is mostly my fault — my disposition — and I know you have been hurt often but I can't seem to reconcile the future with any bottom line solution. You are a very good person — kind thoughtful — generous — very loyal and true — and I do not deserve — any more — your companionship. I guess I thought it would be as at first — way back at 17 — and it would always be Rome — Ireland — Cal — Alaska etc — a long long fling.

The room looks very nice & clean as I sit here — thanks again!

I don't know what more to say — too confused & ill at heart. Maybe some day I will better understand life and the human heart.

Love —
