Dear Paul:

I received your note which reflected your deliberations about the proposal I presented to you when I visited with you a couple weeks ago. I was hoping that it was a creative solution to your present circumstances. However, since you do not see it that way, I will be talking with Bishop Hughes and Cardinal Law about your thoughts and I will be back in contact with you.

It was good to see you. I regret that you continue to experience the feelings you have about ministry. My prayer is that it will come to a fruitful resolve.

Take care of yourself, Paul, and I hope that you are feeling well both physically and spiritwise.

With warm regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
