RE: St. Rita's Church
Your File No: 22240/24204

Dear Brian:

For the records, as we had discussed in our phone conversation of the other day, please be advised that the corporate entity known as the Roman Catholic Bishop of Louisville, Corporation Sole, is a non-profit corporation that basically owns all of the Church-related assets in the Archdiocese of Louisville, specifically including St. Rita's Church in Louisville, and St. Dominic's Church in Springfield, Kentucky. Archbishop Thomas C. Kelly, O.P., as the present presiding Archbishop, is the President of the corporation, and retains that position so long as he is the Archbishop of the Diocese.

The policy of the Archdiocese regarding liability coverage of its various facilities throughout the Archdiocese is that each individual facility has its own basic liability coverage, presently I understand same to be $500,000.00 (while at the time of the incident involving Father Clark, I believe it was $300,000.00), and then the Archdiocese has an umbrella coverage beyond that basic liability amount.

I am glad that you are investigating the coverage question regarding Commercial Union Assurance Companies, and I will be anxious to know your company's position regarding coverage under the subject property.

Wishing you best wishes for the New Year, I remain

Very truly yours,

FORD, KLAPHEKE & MEYER
