

Archdiocese of Louisville

Dear Dr Wagner:

Thank you for your good letter of April 17th. I look forward to receiving the report on Father Mouser.

These recent developments in Father Mouser's life jogged the memory of Father Medley who recalled an incident from Father's previous pastorate in Flaherty Ky. He decided to run that down. The current pastor knew of the incident, and says that it has been verified by independent sources. Father Medley says that if it happened today we would have to report it. Although the incident had a negative pastoral effect on the victim and the family, no complaint was ever filed with the chancery or with the courts, nor is there likely to be. I thought it might be important for you to know, however, as you deal with Irvin. Eventually I expect I shall have to confront him with it as well.

Abey Kelly

Archdiocese of Louisville

Dear Dr Wagner:

Thank you for your good letter of April 17th. I look forward to receiving the report on Father Mouser.

These recent developments in Father Mouser's life jogged the memory of Father Medley who recalled an incident from Father's previous pastorate in Flaherty Ky. He decided to run that down. The current pastor knew of the incident, and says that it has been verified by independent sources. Father Medley says that if it happened today we would have to report it. Although the incident had a negative pastoral effect on the victim and the family, no complaint was ever filed with the chancery or with the courts, nor is there likely to be. I thought it might be important for you to know, however, as you deal with Irvin. Eventually I expect I shall have to confront him with it as well.

Alay Kelly