Your Excellency:

Please pardon the delay in answering your letter. I unfortunately have been ill and the convalescent period has been a rather rough procedure.

I did see Father Janssen on one occasion but, because of the fact that my entire week has been taken up in administrative duties and private cases, I was forced to refer Father to one of the clinical psychologists at Loyola. He definitely will need psychotherapy. I would hope by this time that Father Janssen has communicated with your Excellency with reference to this matter and would have informed you of his therapist. I am sure that his therapist would be more able at this time to answer the questions that you have suggested.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Wm. J. Devlin, S.J., M.D.
