RE: Paul Ciaramitaro (Rev. Joseph Birmingham - deceased)

July 14

Father James McCarthy asked me to call Father Henry Cicale (Sons of Mary) who was filling in for Father Casey in Gloucester.

I called Father Cicale (508-283-0054). He referred to an old case regarding Father Birmingham's connection with [REDACTED] of [REDACTED] mother [REDACTED] wants him to have therapy. We made a settlement with [REDACTED] four years ago ($3500) and paid $385 in therapy costs.

I am awaiting her call. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] himself called to ask for help. He did not avail himself of therapy before. He just stopped going. Now he finds that he is suicidal, hostile toward his parents, and unable to go on a date. He thinks he would like a woman therapist. I explained the legal situation and also that this would have to be brought to a review. I took his number and told him that I would get back to him. We talked for awhile because he seemed depressed.

RCAB REDACTION

[REDACTED] Recognizing the meager settlement, [REDACTED] age at the time of signing [REDACTED] release, and the pressure from family members regarding his therapy, the team agreed to allow [REDACTED] six months of therapy. I included this time frame in the waiver I sent [REDACTED]. He hesitated to enter therapy under these conditions. However, he did find a woman therapist, Beberly [REDACTED] and decided to go. In the meantime, he also found a friend who is a lawyer; namely, Michelle [REDACTED]. She called me asking specific questions so I referred her to Wilson Rogers, Jr.
