Ready to go see him, I was trying my hardest to think what it might be about.

A dozen things or happening went through my head.

U walked in his office when he was talking to someone else which gave a few minutes while U stood there by his side. So ~~soon~~ he saw me and turned and began talking. He stated to me that he had talked to Ruby and me on the subject of getting married. When he had said anything before he had talked about things happening sometime in May. Well he told me that the prophet was thinking to do it sometime next week.

Today was the most beautiful day. It was as though the lord sent it just for me. The morning was so peaceful that it gathered peace to my soul.

This weekend has been quite a time. Many things have happened to make my world go upside down. There are many things that are very weighty on my mind. If it wasn't for the lord I would be feeling quite overwhelmed.

Yesterday was quite an experience. It was about 10:00 when Mother Amy called up to the room and told me that father wanted to see me. As I was getting

Of course has been an amazing weekend. Many things have happened to make things feel a little upside down.

Yesterday was quite a nerve shaking day. It was about

It caught me by such surprise that I just stood there. I will never forget the emotions that went through my head.

For a long time now
I have been pleading with the Lord to please prepare a place for me, by a man who will love and teach me. Most of all I pray that the Lord will give me a testimony that I will be able to know
with all my heart that where I have placed is where I am supposed to be.
