My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

We can never fully make right the heinous sins and crimes that have hurt so many. We can remain completely committed to being a part of the healing process and working with all our energy to protect our children from sexual abuse. To the victims and their families I apologize for the severe damage in all aspects of your lives imposed by this sinful and criminal abuse.

Today, I am asking you, the Catholic faithful, to face a painful reality with courage and prayer as we share the names of the clergy who have served in our diocese against whom a credible allegation involving the sexual abuse of a minor has been made.

A "credible allegation" is one that, after review of reasonably available, relevant information in consultation with the Diocesan Review Board or other professionals, there is reason to believe is true.

Since 2003, we have implemented throughout our diocese the requirements of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' "Charter for the Protection of Children and Young Adults." We investigate every allegation. We have zero tolerance for this crime. Nearly 16 years ago, I established a Diocesan Review Board that reviews and assesses the credibility of allegations of sexual abuse of minors and makes recommendations to me. On that board are lay men and women who are not employees of the diocese and who are competent in fields such as psychiatry, judiciary, law enforcement and social service.

A context may be helpful. The diocese was founded in 1966. Every summer since 2003 the diocese is audited on our compliance with the USCCB Charter, and on each third year there is a more comprehensive on-site audit by trained professionals. Since the beginning of the audits, our diocese has received an "in compliance" determination each year. The last incident of sexual abuse of a minor by clergy that we know of and that has been determined credible occurred in 1994.

You can find additional information regarding the reporting of crimes of sexual abuse, the contact information for our Victim Assistance Coordinator and the names of the members of our Diocesan Review Board on our diocesan website. (www.dioceseofbmt.org)

My promise to those who have been victimized is my constant prayer and my work to help with their healing. I ask all of you to continue to pray for them and their families.

I also ask you to pray and support the dedicated priests, deacons and religious as well as the lay faithful who serve in our diocese and throughout the larger Church. Especially pray for those who pick up the pieces left by the damage done by those who betrayed our minors and those who covered up their crimes.

As I prepared this letter I was reminded of the Scripture from the Gospel of John, "If you remain in my word, you will truly be my disciples, you will know the truth and the truth will set you free." (John 8:31-32)

There are those over the centuries who have added their own comment to our Lord's words: "Yes, but before the truth sets you free, it will make you angry." There is truth also in those words for many of us who today may find ourselves angry at those who perpetrated these crimes. I pray that in time with God's grace we will be able to find the mercy to forgive them for the horrible damage they have done to their victims and their families and for the pain they have also caused the Body of Christ.

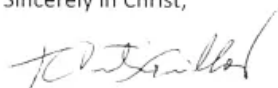

Finally, I ask you not to lose heart. Our Lord and Savior is with us just as He was when the wind and water rocked the Sea of Galilee and the disciples' boat.

I also ask our priests, deacons and seminarians not to lose heart, but instead to trust that the Holy Spirit is guiding them in their vocation.

Together we will pray and work for the purification of our Church and all who have been wounded by the actions of Her clergy.

May our Lord and Savior bless all of you.

Sincerely in Christ,

Most Rev. Curtis J. Guillory, S.V.D., D.D.
Bishop of Beaumont

God of endless love, ever caring, ever strong,
 always present, always just:
 You gave your only Son to save us by the blood of his cross.

Gentle Jesus, shepherd of peace,
 join to your own suffering
 the pain of all who have been hurt in body, mind, and spirit
 by those who betrayed the trust placed in them.

Hear our cries as we agonize
 over the harm done to our brothers and sisters.
 Breathe wisdom into our prayers,
 soothe restless hearts with hope,
 steady shaken spirits with faith:
 Show us the way to justice and wholeness,
 enlightened by truth and enfolded in your mercy.

Holy Spirit, comforter of hearts,
 heal your people's wounds
 and transform our brokenness.
 Grant us courage and wisdom, humility and grace,
 so that we may act with justice and find peace in you.
 We ask this through Christ, our Lord.

Amen.
