Terry was my friend and my debate partner in high school in Yankton, SD. I am a Lutheran and he being Catholic, became the topic of many late night conversations on religion. I have only learned of his passing in the last few months and my heart is hurting. He and I communicated on a regular basis and when the letters stopped after he was in Las Vegas and so as usual I googled him to try to find him. During my search, I discovered his obituary and I immediately felt a void in my world. No Terry, my friend, my partner. I will never forget him and will miss his presence in my life.

Terrence had an enquiring mind, a lively sense of humour and a warm friendship. I first knew him whilst at Oxford, but sadly lost touch with him in the early-2000's. I hope he is now at peace.

Fr. Terry brought me into the Catholic Church some 30 years ago. I found him to be a kind, gentle and sensitive man and liked him right away. His family has my deepest sympathy and I pray for his soul.
