

Clergy with Allegations of Sexual Abuse of a Minor¹ Substantiated by the Archdiocese

The following list includes all priests and deacons of the Archdiocese and all extern and religious order priests serving in Archdiocesan ministries against whom there has been an allegation which was substantiated by the Archdiocese’s Review Process for Continuation of Ministry administered by the Independent Review Board. All are no longer in public ministry. Prior to the creation of the Independent Review Board in 1992, allegations were substantiated² by the Archdiocese through an internal administrative review. The determination that an allegation has been substantiated follows a process of consultation, represents the opinion of the Archdiocese, and is not a legal judgment or determination. The Archdiocese reports all allegations of sexual abuse of minors to civil legal authorities.

Every effort has been made to make sure that the list is accurate. Questions about the list should be submitted to the Office for the Protection of Children and Youth at OPCY@archchicago.org.

Archdiocesan Priests with Allegations of Sexual Abuse of a Minor that were not Sustained after Canonical Trial

When the Independent Review Board determines that an allegation against a cleric is substantiated, the allegation is forwarded to the Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith (CDF). Transmittal of the allegation to the CDF is required to remove a priest permanently from ministry. The CDF either gives permission to remove a priest permanently from priestly ministry through an administrative process, or the CDF directs that the case be heard in a canonical court. After all the appeals have been exhausted, the court's judgment is final.

If the trial judges cannot achieve the required moral certitude that the alleged abuse has occurred, then the cleric remains in good standing. However, if, in the course of the process information surfaces that there may have been other inappropriate behavior, the ministry of the priest may be limited.

Archdiocesan Priests Against whom Allegations of Sexual Abuse of a Minor Were Substantiated after their Death

A. PREVIOUS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST DECEASED PRIESTS

1. Description of Past Practice

The following is a list of those deceased archdiocesan priests where more than one identified person alleged that he or she was sexually abused as a minor by such deceased priest and where such allegations have not been previously reviewed by the Independent Review Board (IRB) or, prior to the creation of the IRB, through a similar administrative process. In the past, allegations against deceased priests were not presented to the IRB because the IRB's scope of responsibility is to determine risk to children and fitness for ministry. In the case of a deceased priest, there were no current risk to children or concerns about his fitness for ministry. Consistent with long-standing archdiocesan policy, even though these allegations were not presented to the IRB, the Archdiocese provided a pastoral response to the survivors who made the reports. Also consistent with archdiocesan policy, all of these allegations were reported to civil authorities. The Archdiocese has changed that policy, as described below.

2. Revised Policy Regarding Previously Accused Deceased Priests

In instances where more than one identified person has alleged that he or she was sexually abused as a minor by a deceased priest, and where such allegations have not been previously reviewed by the IRB or through a similar administrative process, documents relating to such allegations will be provided to the IRB. After review by the IRB, the IRB will determine, on the basis of the record available to it whether there is reason to believe that the priest had engaged in the sexual abuse of a minor. If the IRB concludes that there is reason to believe that the priest engaged in sexual abuse of a minor and the Archbishop accepts its determination, the priest's name will be included on the list below. If the IRB concludes that it is unable to determine that there is reason to believe the priest engaged in the sexual abuse of a minor, the name of the priest will not be included on the list below.

B. NEWLY ACCUSED DECEASED PRIESTS

From the date of the publication of this Section, in instances where an identified person alleges he or she was sexually abused as a minor by a deceased priest, and where such allegations have not been previously reviewed by the Independent Review Board (IRB) or through a similar administrative process, the allegations will be investigated and reported to the IRB as in cases involving living priests. After investigation and review by the IRB, the IRB will determine whether there is reason to believe that the accused cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor. If the IRB concludes there is reason to believe the accused cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor, and the Archbishop accepts its determination, the cleric's name will be listed below. If the IRB is unable to determine that there is reason to believe the accused cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor, the name of the cleric will not be listed below.

Laicized and Voluntarily Withdrawn Priests

In instances where an identified person alleges that he or she was sexually abused as a minor by a priest who has been laicized or who voluntarily withdrew from ministry and is not currently a priest of the Archdiocese, and where such allegations have not been previously reviewed by the Independent Review Board (IRB) or through a similar administrative process, the allegations will be investigated and reported to the IRB as in other cases involving Archdiocese priests. After investigation and review by the IRB, the IRB will determine whether there is reason to believe that the accused former cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor. If the IRB concludes there is reason to believe the accused former cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor, and the Archbishop accepts its determination, the former cleric's name will be listed below. If the IRB is unable to determine that there is reason to believe the accused former cleric committed the alleged sexual abuse of a minor, the name of the former cleric will not be listed below.

Religious Order Priests with Allegations of Sexual Abuse of a Minor Substantiated by the Religious Order

The following is a list of members of religious orders present in the Archdiocese of Chicago who served in an archdiocesan ministry and have been identified by their respective orders as having a substantiated or credible allegation of child sexual abuse made against them, as determined by the religious order. The Archdiocese has not independently investigated these allegations. It is publishing this list for the benefit of Archdiocese parishioners, based solely on the official determinations provided by the religious orders, which have jurisdiction over their members.
