

Parish Gets New Priest

QUINCY, Wash., Sept. 17. — The Rev. Brian T. Gallagher, newly ordained Catholic priest, has arrived here from Ireland to serve as assistant pastor of St. Pius X parish.

Father Gallagher was ordained June 19, 1960, at All Hallows college, Dublin, by the Most Rev. John Scanlon, auxiliary bishop of Honolulu. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallagher, and was born in Kinlough, County Leitrim, Ireland. He attended Edenciula Four Masters Kinlough, Mt. Melleray seminary and All Hallows college.

Organizing and conducting the children's religious instruction classes will become the duty of Father Gallagher. He also will teach the seventh through 12th grade C. Y. O. classes in Quincy and at Royal Slope and Vantage.
