

ON WINGS OF MUSIC—Shreveport's "Flying Priest," Father Victor J. Sepsi, second from right, and Shreveport theater manager Joe Gianforte, far right, are greeted at Lakefront Airport in New Orleans where the priest was guest of honor at the recent New Orleans premiere of "The Sound of Music." Father

Sepsi was invited by 20th Century Fox after he flew many teenage parishioners to Dallas to view the film in recent months. The priest-pilot feels that clergymen should be "for" good entertainment as well as being "against" bad movies and television shows.
