

The Rev. Joseph P. Wacławski
... Camp Turner director

Open House Scheduled At Camp Turner

The Rev. Joseph P. Wacławski, associate director of the Youth Department of the Catholic Diocese of Buffalo, has assumed duties as director of Camp Turner in Allegany State Park diocesan resident camp for boys. An open house for parents and friends will be staged at the camp from 2 until 5 today prior to the official opening of the 36th season tomorrow.

Ordained May 30, 1942 in St. Joseph's New Cathedral, Father Wacławski had previously attended the Little Seminary and the Seminary of Our Lady of the Angels at Niagara University.

Before his ordination he worked in the Missionary Apostolate and was assistant pastor at St. Paul's Church, Kenmore, and Assumption parish and St. Stanislaus in Buffalo. He was parish youth director at St. Paul and St. Stanislaus parishes and moderator of the Wilson division of the Catholic Youth Council.

He was founder of St. Stanislaus "Boys Town" and moderator of that organization until his appointment with the youth department in September 1956.
